

Rhimjhim Barse Savan... Monsoon Fun @ NHSSVL

The monsoon skies may have been grey, but the spirits at NHSSVL were bright and cheerful!

Our young learners welcomed the rains with open arms and wide smiles as they stepped out in their vibrant raincoats for a day filled with excitement and joy.

Children danced gleefully in puddles, jumped under gentle raindrops, and embraced the playful drizzle, turning the school grounds into a monsoon wonderland. The sound of laughter echoed as they experienced the simple magic of rain — a moment that brought nature and childhood together in perfect harmony.

It was not just a fun-filled day but a celebration of togetherness, spontaneity, and unforgettable memories — the kind that stays with us long after the rain has stopped.
